Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Mastaba of Ptahhetep and Akhethetep at Saqqareh, Vol. 1: The Chapel of Ptahhetep and the Hieroglyphs One grave reservation, however, has to be made. This promise is to the student, not to the art-lover. Outline drawings, oven the most accurate, are but a poor substitute for the beauty of surfaces in relief; and some of the work in this chamber exhibits that astonishing accuracy, vivacity and freedom which Egyptian art affords when at its oldest and best. We must also picture the chapel as affording, when its glories were fresh, a most brilliant blaze Of colour. The bright blue, red, green, and black of the hieroglyphs, the ruddy brown ?esh-tints, the yellow animals, and the vivid blue of the water and the wine-vat would be subdued a little, no doubt, by the dull grey of the ground colour. But taken together with the deep red of the ceiling, and the magnificent scheme of variegated colour on the false door, they would have an effect which it is difficult for the imagination to approach. The present condi tion of the walls is of no great help in the effort. Little catches the eye but the blue-grey background; for though traces of paint are numerous, they are generally very faint and fragmentary indeed.
