Gift Quality First Edition HC copy, still in publisher's shrinkwrap. 270 pp., profusely illustrated. Text by Michel Jan. A photographic survey of the Great Wall as it snakes across the vastness of China's northern borders, along with paintings, sculptures, and scrolls depicting life along the wall through the centuries. Here also are evocative portraits of the nomads of the steppes who live near the wall, in much the same way as their ancestors. The text recounts the complete history of the wall, from the time it was begun during the Qin Dynasty 22 centuries ago to keep out strangers, to the era when it was used to expand the empire into Central Asia, to the period it was used as a trading route facilitating commerce along the Silk Road and later to allow for Buddhist expansion. Included in the text are excerpts from literature and poetry inspired by the wall that express the Chinese spirit throughout the ages. This copy is PRISTINE! Binding is strong and tight, pages are clean and bright. No remainder mark. DJ equally Fn, all still in...
