House of Representatives, One Hundred Fourth Congress, First Session, November 2, 1995 The subcommittee met, pursuant to notice, at 9:10 a.m., in Room 2318, Rayburn House Office Building, Hon. Constance A. Morelia [chairwoman of the subcommittee] presiding. Present: Representatives Morelia, Calvert, Gutknecht, Seastrand, Tanner, Johnson, McCarthy, and Lofgren. Also present: Representative Walker. Staff present: Mike Quear, professional staff, and Farrell Corley, professional staff. Mrs. Morelia. The hearing of the Subcommittee on Technology will now come to order. Good morning. This is the second in a series of oversight hearings the Technology Subcommittee has been holding regarding the effect of tax, antitrust legislation, and other legal and governmental policies and their impact on our Nation s high technology companies. The impact of these factors are very important since the successful promotion of technology and competitiveness are significant determinants of our sustainable economic growth, productivity, and competitive standing. In this hearing we re going to discuss the impact of these factors specifically upon one of our Nation s most important and competitive industries, medical technologies. Research and development of medical technologies is literally a matter of life and death. Advances in medical technologies are crucial, not only for our Nation s biotechnology and medical device companies, but also for the billions of people around the world who wait and hope for cures for major illnesses. Delays in getting new drugs to market are not only economic, but also result in human suffering and potential loss of lives. Despite this recognized need for the continual advancement of medical development and...
