Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Daisy Miller, Pandora: The Patagonia and Other Tales IT was in Rome during the autumn of 1877 a friend then living there but settled now in a South less weighted with appeals and memories happened to mention - which she might perfectly not have done - some simple and uninformed American lady of the previous winter, whose young daughter, a child of nature and of freedom, accompanying her from hotel to hotel, had picked up by the wayside, with the best conscience in the world, a good-looking Roman, of vague identity, astonished at his luck, yet (so far as might be, by the pair) all innocently, all serenely exhibited and introduced: this at least till the occurrence of some small social check, some interrupting incident, of no great gravity or dignity, and which I forget. I had never heard, save on this showing, of the amiable but not otherwise eminent ladies, who weren t in fact named, I think, and whose case had merely served to point a familiar moral; and it must have been...
