I can not speak for all the States, but I think it must be presumed that the matter was considered, because I think you will find, as I have in attending the association meetings in the various States, that the lawyers take those proceedings rather seriously. They do not commit themselves to matters without consideration; and it is a matter of fact-whether Senator Walsh is right or not; we have no evidence, but I suppose the presumption is to the contrary - that 45 of the State bar associations in the country have indorsed this proposal. It is also a fact that it has been indorsed eight or nine times by the American Bar Association. It is a fact that it has been indorsed, among other bodies, by the National Association of Credit Men. There is in this country an organization known as the Commercial Law League Of America, that is composed very largely of lawyers who devote themselves to commercial law, and it is a very large organization. I have forgotten how many members it has, but it seems to me they have members. It is very widely scattered all over the country. I spoke before their national convention last summer. There were 600 or 700 lawyers present. At that meeting. I did not speak on this subject, but I merely cite that to show that I know something about it. That league has, I think without dissent, indorsed this proposal. SO that I do not think, Senators, that you can proceed upon...
